

Q: Where is the Workhorse Tour played?

A: Our inaugural season features over two dozen events at 20+ courses in the Greater Philadelphia area. To see our full schedule of week-long tournaments and one-day member events, please click here to see our Event Calendar.

Q: When can I play a Tour event? Are there fixed days/times?

A: Each week-long Tour event is hosted Monday through Sunday at a participating public course. Book any open tee time during that week-long window and post one score to qualify for the individual tournament leaderboard, as well as the season-long standings. Play in as many or as few tournaments as your schedule allows.

Q: How do the Leaderboard and Standings work?

A: Your Workhorse Tour membership includes your GHIN number from the USGA. This is used to calculate your handicap index (more information further into FAQs). This number ensures a level playing field for golfers regardless of skill level. Once you complete your round, simply post your gross score in the Tour website. Using technology provided by Golf Genius software, your adjusted net score will appear on our tournament leaderboard. The top 25 golfers on each leaderboard receive points according to their final standings, which are added to a separate, year-long leaderboard.

Q: What is the playing format for a week-long tournament?

A: The majority of Tour events are 18-hole, stroke play format, with two 9-hole, stroke play tournaments on the event calendar (Worcester GC, Sweet Water GC).

Q: I see four Major tournaments on the calendar. What are these?

A: A Major tournament is played in exactly the same format as regular Tour events, but is more heavily weighted in our Event Calendar and as such, has more points available on offer.

Q: Do I need to play with another member or can I play by myself?

A: You can play at any time during the week-long window, either by yourself, with a partner or with a threesome/foursome. No other golfers in your group are required to participate, as long as you keep your 18-hole score.

FAQ

Q: How do I book my tee time?

A: All bookings are scheduled through the host course. Links to each booking platform can be found in the course page on our website, but you can also call the course directly to book a tee time. Be aware that tee sheets fill up quickly! If you want to participate in an event on Tour, we suggest that you review the Event Calendar, which includes the first available day/time for booking.

Q: If I'm playing with other Tour members, do they need to book times separately?

A: No. Book your group as normal through the course and then fill out the tee time info prompt on the site to let us know how many of you are playing on Tour that day and at what time.

Q: I'm worried about competitors cheating and posting a score that's not accurate. How will you address/control this?

A: First and foremost, we're relying on Tour members to do the honorable thing: play by the rules and post an actual score. Secondly, all Tour handicaps are to be monitored regularly. If a player posts three consecutive rounds that are wildly out of proportion with the standard range of scoring, the Workhorse Tour reserves the right to flag that competitor and remove their scores from the leaderboard.

Q: Are there restrictions, such as gimmies or max net score, to ensure pace of play and enjoyment for all levels?

A: While every stroke counts, and gimmies/mulligans aren't allowed, one breakfast ball is permitted for all Tour golfers on the first tee box. Additionally, while you can register any score on any hole, the maximum allowable score for all golfers on each hole--regardless of handicap, will be a net double bogey. In short: if you're really scuffling and have reached your net double bogey limit (Par of the hole + 2 strokes + any handicap strokes the player is entitled to receive on that hole based on their Course Handicap), you can pick up and move on.

Q: Are there separate flights for different abilities, genders or age groups?

A: No. In our inaugural season, all golfers are grouped into the same tier regardless of age, skill level or gender. In subsequent years, we will explore the creation of different flights and welcome your feedback and input.

FAQ

Q: What are the rules of play regarding out of bounds, hazards etc?

A: Tour events follow the rules of the host course, as outlined at the course and where applicable, on your scorecard.

Q: What does it cost to join the Workhorse Tour?

A: Your 2021 season membership costs $25 and includes both the aforementioned GHIN number as well as a $25 draft beer gift card for the Workhorse King of Prussia Taproom. The only other fees required are the greens fee due to the course at the time of booking. Also included is a membership card, good for regular discounts at the Taproom as well as with participating Tour sponsors.

Q: Do I need to register in advance?

A: While encouraged to book in advance to ensure access to tournament tee times, it is not required to do so. Upon arrival to the host course, Tour employees will be on site in order to sign you up and get you started.

Q: Do I need to pay $25 if I already have a GHIN number?

A: Yes and you will still receive the $25 gift card to Workhorse and membership card.

Q: Can I play without a GHIN number/handicap index?

A: No. A valid GHIN number is required to play on Tour and is included in your annual membership fee.

Q: Do I have to play a certain number of Tour events?

A: No. Play on your schedule, as many or as few times as you'd like. The more events you participate in, the more opportunities you have to climb the season-long leaderboard.

Q: Can I play multiple rounds at one tournament?

A: Wow, can we have your work schedule? While you are welcome to play as much golf as you'd like at participating courses, you may only post one score per Tour event.

FAQ

Q: I belong to a local private club. Can I play on Tour?

A: You bet! Anyone can register and play on tour as often as they like.

Q: Are there prizes?

A: Tournament winners receive a $50 Workhorse King of Prussia Taproom gift card, a free foursome at the host course as well as a trophy that your spouse will invariably forbid you from displaying in a prominent manner at home. At least you'll always have the memories.

Q: Will highlights of my performance make it on SportsCenter?

A: No...but surprisingly, you can still see your name on regional sports TV. Through a partnership with Inside Golf on NBC Sports Philadelphia, Tour leaderboards will be featured weekly on their show. So if you want ultimate bragging rights by calling out your golf buddies and their place in the standings, we can actually make that happen.

Q: What happens if it rains and my tee time is cancelled?

A: We have no control over the weather and if your scheduled round on Tour is rained out, you may try to reschedule for another day during that week. If nothing is available, unfortunately, you will not be able to post a round at that tournament. Refunding/crediting of greens fees will be handled directly by the participating course and is subject to their rules/regulations.

Q: What are the one-day member outings? Am I required to play in those? How do they work?

A: As part of your membership with the Workhorse Tour, you get access to play one-day events at private courses in the area. These events are somewhat different from your traditional golf outings, in that they are designed to be more casual, offer unique formats (like Ryder Cup-style match play teams) and beer-centric food and beverage packages. Each of these events occurs on a Monday or Tuesday and the cost is a flat fee that includes your golf access, food, drink and more. One-day events are entirely optional but will be loads of fun. Space is limited, however, so be sure to register if you want to play.

FAQ

Q: Are there other membership perks?

A: Beyond the benefits listed above, Tour members are also invited to a monthly Award Ceremony at the KOP Taproom. These events, which take place on Sunday afternoons, will see tournament winners receive their prizes, have live final round PGA Tour events on TV, offer exciting food and beverage deals as well as sponsor perks. These events are a great opportunity to meet other Tour golfers and grow your golfing network. Friends and family are welcome to join you for these events, although during COVID restrictions, space is still limited as per state and local regulations.

Q: Tell me more about this exclusive Tour beer!

A: Happily. All participating courses are given exclusive access to the Tour beer, a lightly hopped, low ABV Blonde Ale that's perfect for the course and the 19th hole. This beer is not available at normal Workhorse retailers, so be sure to visit courses on Tour to grab yours. You don't need to play golf either; many of these locations have full bars and restaurants and look forward to welcoming you in. Additionally, each participating course gets their very own, unique label design for their beer, and we encourage you to check out the full set of custom designs at each course or by visiting our social media page.

Q: I'm interested in a white label beer for my golf course, how can we get one?

A: We're thrilled to hear about your interest and would love to discuss bringing the Tour beer to your course. Please email golf@workhorsebrewing.com and we'll be in touch!

Q: All this talk about beer is making me thirsty. That's not a question, just a fact.

A: Can't blame ya there! Lucky for you, you can order beer directly from the Tour site, including at-home delivery (within 13 miles of KOP), contactless pickup and D2C shipping through the mail. If you are in our delivery radius and order by 3pm, beer is guaranteed to arrive that same day!

Q: I'd like to host a Workhorse Tour event at our golf club. How can we make this happen?

A: While our 2021 schedule is fully booked, we are already booking for 2022 and would love to host a Tour event at your club. Please email golf@workhorsebrewing.com for more information.

FAQ

Q: My company would be interested in becoming a sponsor of the Workhorse Tour. What packages are available and how can we learn more?

A: Unlike traditional one-day golf outings with limited exposure and predictable options, sponsorship opportunities with the Workhorse Tour provide value for an entire season of golf and a huge array of golfers. The golf industry enjoyed a huge boost in participation during 2020 and tee sheets everywhere are packed ensuring visibility and strong potential for ROI. Best of all, each sponsorship package is entirely customizable to suit your specific goals! Please email golf@workhorsebrewing.com for more information.

Q: Wow, the Workhorse Tour seems awesome. Are you hiring?

A: Yes we are! To learn more about available opportunities, please email your resume to golf@workhorsebrewing.com and we'll be in touch soon.

Q: Is there a way to keep up with all Tour updates, news and information?

A: Very much so. To join our mailing list, please click here!
